

Vic Montaner

A territory for renewable energy

As part of the "Positive Energy for Green Growth Territory", the community of Commons Vic-Montaner (CCVM) suggested experiments in real organic photovoltaic (OPV) sites, in partnership with the IPREM (UPPA).

These are eight projects which will be installed (for the first time in France) in the spring of 2017. They will demonstrate the possibilities of OPV facilities with the goal of presenting this as a technology that can be used everywhere.

They serve as the basis of studies for UPPA researchers in order to increase their longevity and performance, with the aim, in the medium-term, of installing a production unit on the territory of the CSC.
